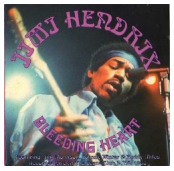
Jimi Hendrix – Bleeding Heart - Live at the Scene Club (1968)



01- Red House
02- Wake Up This Morning And You Find Yourself Dead
03- Bleeding Heart
04- Morrison's Lament
05- Tomorrow Never Knows
06- Outside Woman Blues
07- Sunshine of Your Love
Bass – Randy Hobbs Drums – Buddy Miles, Randy Z Guitar [Rhythm] – Johnny Winter Guitar, Vocals – Jimi Hendrix Harmonica, Vocals – Jim Morrison

Woke Up This Morning and Found Myself Dead The lesson to be learned here is "LET THE BUYER BEWARE!" This CD contains a recording Jimi himself made of a jam at the Scene in NYC in early March (the 7th?) of 1968. Jim Morrison is there shouting vulgar things while Jimi tries to play. There are questions as to the rest of the line-up. Buddy Miles was there and participated a little in the jam but there was also another drummer on hand. Johnny Winters is advertised to have been there as well, but although he was friends with Jimi and worked with him from time to time, Johnny was in Texas at the time this jam took place.

Regardless, it's cool, a good album to have, but be warned. I've seen this exact same recording packaged and sold under 4 different names with 4 different cover photos/artwork. Three of these 4 were in the same store, on the same rack, inches from each other! --- socialmusic.fm download (mp3 @192 kbs):

yandex mediafire hostuje uloz.to gett

back