Recorded less than a year before the pianist died in May, this trio recording shows that his swing, invention of melodic lines, harmonic imagination and celebrated touch were flourishing at the end of his 90th year. The occasion was the 31st concert of Jazz na Hradě in Prague Castle. The series was initiated by the Czech Republic's ranking jazz fan, its President, Václav Klaus. The first track of the CD is Klaus's brief welcome and introduction. Jones takes over in the universal language of music, accompanied by the eminent Czech émigré bassist George Mraz and the young drummer Willie Jones III (no relation).
