Another sparkling gem in Leszek Możdżer's rich catalogue, Between Us and the Light (which, as far as I know, despite its English title has been published only in Poland) sees the Polish piano genius in a jazz trio context, alongside Swedish bassist and cellist Lars Danielsson and Israeli percussionist Zohar Fresco. Like the previous album of this exciting trio (2005's The Time), Between Us and the Light has garnered double platinum award in Poland. It's not difficult to understand why. Highly recommended.
