

Deborah Coleman - Stop The Game (2007)

Written by bluesever

Tuesday, 19 July 2011 18:38 - Last Updated Thursday, 10 December 2020 14:54

Deborah Coleman - Stop The Game (2007)

1. I Got To Know See All 2. Stop the Game 3. Motor City II play 4. Everlastin' Tears
5. Greezy 6. Changes 7. Long Time 8. Seven Days 9. Zero 10. Wagon Wheel
play

Deborah Coleman (vocals, guitar); Bill Crawford (guitar, acoustic guitar); Jerome Heitman (bass guitar); Neil Shull (drums).

Guitarist Deborah Coleman plays blues informed by classic rock, with a deft, melodic hand and a deep, throaty voice that ranges from sobbing sorrow to a tough growl. This 2007 release doesn't stray far from her usual MO, but offers the same high-quality playing and singing. Highlights include album-closer "Wagon Wheel," a frisky number with a Western swing bounce. ---John Stedman

After a couple year layoff, Deborah Coleman comes back with a really strong release. A hard rocking set, this features a couple of instrumentals- one in a country blues vein. The "Changes" is a cover of Buddy Miles "Them Changes" and it is a good one. Very good CD here and this should please fans of modern blues. ---K. Cooper, amazon.com download (mp3 @320 kbs):

Deborah Coleman - Stop The Game (2007)

Written by bluesever

Tuesday, 19 July 2011 18:38 - Last Updated Thursday, 10 December 2020 14:54

yandex mediafire ulozto gett bayfiles hostuje

back