

Charlie Sayles - I Got Something To Say (1995)

Written by bluesever

Saturday, 08 January 2011 19:49 - Last Updated Saturday, 10 October 2020 07:50

Charlie Sayles - I Got Something To Say (1995)

- 1-Mississippi Saxophone
- 2-The Man
- 3-Hip Guy
- 4-Zydeco play
- 5-I Got Something To Say
- 6-Little Walter's Blues
- 7-Hey Joe
- 8-I Love My Baby
- 9-I Like What I Like
- 10-Two Timin' Woman
- 11-Funky Sound
- 12-Screecher
- 13-Well Now
- 14-I Got Something To Say
- 15-Hip Guy
- 16-Well Now
- 17-Mississippi Saxophone
- 18-I Love My Baby
- 19-Little Walter's Blues play

Personnel:

Charlie Sayles (vocals, harmonica);
Deborah Coleman, Shawn Kellerman (guitar);
Anthony Gonsalves (background vocals).

Charlie, an African American born in 1948, has been playing his blues for nearly 30 years. After returning from two years of service in the Vietnam War in 1971, he taught himself the harmonica, honed his music on the streets and in clubs, and worked his way across the country.

Charlie Sayles - I Got Something To Say (1995)

Written by bluesever

Saturday, 08 January 2011 19:49 - Last Updated Saturday, 10 October 2020 07:50

By the mid-1970s, he recorded his first album and was playing for large music festivals followed by international tours. Charlie's recordings and performances have garnered very high critical claim. (Press reviews are available.) In 1997, he launched the Union Mission Band in Washington, DC. Following is a selected list of accomplishments.

"The Afro-American harmonica, or blues harp, gives us one of America's great traditional art forms. It can't be written down with music notation; you have to hear it to believe it. Charlie Sayles is one of our very best harp players." - Pete Seeger download (mp3 @192 kbs):

yandex mediafire ulozto gett hostuje bayfiles

back