

Buddy Guy & Junior Well– Last Time Arround – Live At Legends (1993)

Written by bluesever

Tuesday, 27 October 2009 18:00 - Last Updated Monday, 28 September 2020 14:36

Buddy Guy & Junior Well– Last Time Arround – Live At Legends (1993)

1. Seeds Of Reed 2. That's All Right 3. She's All Right/Still A Fool 4. Hoochie Coochie Man
5. What I'd Say (It's All Right) 6. Key To The Highway 7. I've Been There 8. Feelin' Good/What I'd Say 9. Oh Baby/You Better Watch Yourself 10. Hoodoo Man Blues
Musicians: Buddy Guy – guitar, vocals Junior Wells – harmonica, vocals

Last Time Around -- Live At Legends is a fitting farewell to the late, great Junior Wells and his partnership, friendship and kinship with Buddy Guy that lasted decades. The album is a historic release in many ways. It reunites two blues legends who began their unique association in the 1950s. The album was recorded live in March 1993 at Buddy Guy's world-famous Chicago blues mecca Legends, and it's an acoustic document of many classic songs that made both Wells and Guy legends in their own right, such as "She's Alright" and "I've Been There," along with other classic blues standards such as "Hoochie Coochie Man" and "Key to the Highway," all delivered with a looseness and power that define both Guy and Wells. It also marks the last time the two ever played together. --- Matthew Greenwald, allmusic.com download (mp3 @320 kbs):

yandex mediafire ulozto gett bayfiles

back

Buddy Guy & Junior Well– Last Time Arround – Live At Legends (1993)

Written by bluesever

Tuesday, 27 October 2009 18:00 - Last Updated Monday, 28 September 2020 14:36
