

Lightnin' Hopkins - Lightnin' (1969)

Written by bluesever

Tuesday, 11 October 2016 13:49 - Last Updated Wednesday, 31 March 2021 19:50

Lightnin' Hopkins - Lightnin' (1969)

A1 Hold Up Your Hand A2 My Starter Won't Start This Morning A3 What'd I Say A4 One Kind Favor A5 Baby Please Don't Go B1 Trouble In Mind B2 Annie's Blues B3 Baby B4 Little And Low B5 I Hear You Calling C1 Mojo Hand Part 1 C2 Mojo Hand Part 2 C3 Have You Ever Had A Woman C4 Ain't It Crazy C5 Black And Evil D1 Rock Me Baby D2 Hello Central D3 Back Door Friend D4 Little Girl, Little Girl D5 It's Better Down The Road

Sam "Lightnin'" Hopkins was one of the most influential musicians in modern day blues music. Born and raised in Texas, Hopkins lived early life as a rambler, playing music for most of his career on street corners and in local bars. As blues and folk music took the world by storm in the early 1960s, Hopkins became famous for his contributions, having recorded a number of widely popular albums and gaining a worldwide fan base. His music changed the way the world viewed blues music. --- highbeam.com download (mp3 @320 kbs):

yandex mediafire ulozto solidfiles global.files

back

Lightnin' Hopkins - Lightnin' (1969)

Written by bluesever

Tuesday, 11 October 2016 13:49 - Last Updated Wednesday, 31 March 2021 19:50
