Released in 2004, contains many originals inspired, it seems, by memories of life and times in Pasadena, Ca and elsewhere. The songs range in subject matter, like a series of snapshots, or scenes glimpsed through the window of a moving car, framed with wry humour and strong melodies. Ranging from the rootsy "traintime" rhythm of My Town, through the subtle funk of Good Morning Mrs T, to the Mississippi chorus ending of Blues Take Me Home, the album was recorded in the Tonezone Studio of co-producer Richard Studholme, who has recorded albums for Eric Bibb, Donovan, Hubert Sumlin and others. ---www.guytortora.com
