

Galina Gorchakova - Verdi & Tchaikovsky Arias (1996)

Written by bluesever

Thursday, 26 August 2010 20:24 - Last Updated Thursday, 05 March 2015 12:33

Galina Gorchakova - Verdi & Tchaikovsky Arias (1996)

01. La forza del destino, Son Giunta!
 02. Otello, Mia Madre Aveva
 03. Eugene Onegin, Op. 24 Puskaj Pagibnu ja, no prezhd
 04. Pique Dame (The Queen of Spades), Op. 68 Otkuda Eti Sl'ozy
 05. The Sorceress (The Enchantress), Gde Zhe Ty, Moj Zjelannyj
 06. The Oprichnik, Pachudilis' mne Butta Galasa
 07. La forza del destino, Pace, Pace, Mio Dio
 08. Aida, Qui Radames Verra
 09. Il Trovatore, Tacea La Notte Placida
- Galina Gorchakova - soprano Kirov Orchestra
Valery Gergiev – conductor

Galina Gorchakova is that rarity--a genuine spinto soprano--rather than the usual pushed-up lyric, and she wields her dark, sumptuous voice with assurance; her high notes can be thrilling in their power. She is at her best in the four arias by Tchaikovsky, particularly her believably impetuous reading of the Letter Scene from "Eugene Onegin." She sometimes carries too much heft too high for the Verdian repertoire, with an occasional hint of strain as a result, but most listeners will forgive a measure of Slavic production in an Italian role for the chance to hear a soprano who can sing this music without apologies. She is ably and sympathetically accompanied by conductor Valery Gergiev and the Kirov Orchestra. --Sarah Bryan Miller, amazon.com download (mp3 @128 kbs):

Galina Gorchakova - Verdi & Tchaikovsky Arias (1996)

Written by bluesever

Thursday, 26 August 2010 20:24 - Last Updated Thursday, 05 March 2015 12:33

uploaded yandex 4shared mega mediafire solidfiles zalivalka cloudmailru oboom

back