

Manuel Enriquez (Salazar) - Rapsodia Latinoamericana

Written by bluesever

Sunday, 10 April 2011 21:56 -

Manuel Enriquez (Salazar) - Rapsodia Latinoamericana

1. Rapsodia Latinoamericana

Carlos Chavez Symphony Orchestra
Fernando Lozano – conductor

Manuel Enriquez (Salazar) (1926-1994) was a Mexican composer. He studied at the Juilliard School (1955-7) and became director of the Mexico City Conservatory. From 1960 he used serial and aleatory techniques, mostly in orchestral and instrumental pieces. In the 1960s he held a comparable position to Chávez's of the 1930s, but unlike Chávez he declared nationalism a dead end for Mexican musicians.

He wrote mainly orchestral and chamber music, as well as some film scores and songs. The Rapsodia Latinoamericana (for orchestra) was written in 1987.

download

back