Richard Harvey – Concerto Antico Steve Gray - Guitar Concerto (1996)

Richard Harvey – Concerto Antico 1- I Alborada 2- II Contredanse 3- III Cantilena 4- IV Forlana 5- V Lavolta Steve Gray - Guitar Concerto 6- VI Dances 7- VII Love Songs 8- VIII Jokes
John Williams - guitar London Symphony Orchestra Paul Daniel – conductor

Why is Harvey's Concerto Antico not more well known? It was recorded over a decade ago by John Williams, who can do no wrong in my book. The third movement is particularly beautiful and deserves to be heard more often, or used as a film score. I heard it on the radio on Classic FM without knowing what it was and had to write the details down at the end so I could then order the CD. That wasn't easy as it only appears to be available from the US but I was still able to order it via Amazon. Steve Gray's guitar concerto is also on the CD and is a less accessible piece but the album is worth having just for Concerto Antico alone. --- Paul Kay, amazon.com
