

Johannes Brahms – Violin Concerto (Mutter) [1982]

Written by bluesever

Wednesday, 21 October 2009 19:46 - Last Updated Friday, 20 September 2013 19:33

Johannes Brahms – Violin Concerto (Mutter) [1982]

1. Allegro non troppo 2. Adagio 3. Allegro giocoso, ma non troppo vivace - Poco più presto
Anne-Sophie Mutter – violin Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra Herbert von Karajan - conductor

During the BPO's best days, before Karajan's falling out and death (God rest his sole), DG issued some of their best recordings ever. This was during the golden age of the CD. Mutter's performance of the Brahms Violin Concerto is one of the most secure, technically accomplished, refined and engaging renditions to be had. Karajan and the BPO provide robust, full scale orchestral support. Mutter has studied the score and NEVER rushes tempo, one easily hears complete bowing motions, a ravishing violin tone and full grasp of Brahms phrasing. Her interpretation here is a classic of the repertoire. ---RLB, amazon.com download: uploaded anonfiles mega 4shared mixturecloud yandex mediafire ziddu

back