The artistic development from Christl's first album to "Inspiration" is staggering in the best of ways. There is so much passion and beauty in this album, and you can tell Florian is really coming into his own as an artist. This album is much more patient than his first. He really takes time to let the songs develop, and it absolutely pays off. Some personal favorites are his single "Fly" "C'est la vie" and "November"

Beautiful classical music is still being made, and we are very lucky to have talented artists like Christl making it for us. I absolutely recommend this album, you will not be disappointed.

Beautiful music born of Nature, music that lifts your thoughts and emotions, giving them free flight.

Christl never formally studied composition or the piano. He simply sits down at the piano and writes music that lifts your thoughts and emotions, giving them free flight, like a dream for the soul. Inspiring, full of love, hope, longing and beautiful melodies. Florian grew up in a small town in Bavaria. He loves the outdoors, the quiet of the forest, and the peace of the mountains. His greatest passion has always been making music and he spent every free moment at the piano.

During his studies Florian worked as a student trainee with Sony Music. One of his colleagues was so impressed by his music that she used some of his tunes for a presentational video and in a playlist. This is how the classical department became aware of Florian. The music recorded for his debut album "Inspiration" is almost identical to one of his first demos recorded at home. Next to solo piano pieces, half of the songs are arranged for piano and string quintet.
