No.1 in A minor (Posthumous)
Renaud Capuçon, violin Gautier Capuçon, cello Frank Braley, piano

Of all the recordings (and there are now many) of the Capuçon brothers, this remains my favorite. The wonderful intensity, beauty of sound, sometimes edgy interaction between the players (particularly in the Violin and Cello Sonata) and natural musicality of these performances makes for a wonderful 70+ minutes of listening.

Braley's contribution in the very difficult piano parts is every bit their match, as is the wide-ranging Virgin recorded sound.

There are many outstanding versions of these works available. For combination of repertoire, performance and recorded sound, this cd stands very high on the recommended list! If you do not know Ravel's chamber music, this cd and a recording of the String Quartet are the way to begin exploring. Enjoy! --- Panatropebax, amazon.com
