Adrian Perry - Life in Slow Motion (2014)

01. Life in Slow Motion 02. Should Have Seen It Coming 03. Feel Your Love 04. Bring You Down 05. Together Again 06. Runaway 07. Lost in Your Eyes 08. Standing Tall 09. Too Blind to See 10. Believe 11. Stronger Every Day

Life In Slow Motion is a very personal album to me, it looks back over a period in my life where I thought I had lost everything and nearly did! However it's not a depressive album instead the songs are about growing stronger, hope, realising what has gone before and wanting to correct the wrongs. About watching somebody grow and pick themselves up from the lowest point and come out stronger. About the hope, fears and dreams we all have inside us and lastly about love and its effect on all of us.

The album is saxophone driven but the sax shares the lime light on most tracks with jazz acoustic guitar, I have tried to avoid a bit of the syrup that is sometimes present in smooth jazz and bring a harder edge to the songs so electric guitar and piano feature strongly in the tracks.

The songs whilst all original are inspired by some of the greats in the smooth jazz arena, Dave Koz, Warren Hill, Candy Dulfer, Acoustic Alchemy, Steve Oliver and The Rippingtons.

Songs have pretty melodies, strong bass lines, some dramatic piano lines and of course sweet saxophone.

So if your life seems on a downward spiral or you have been running at full tilt too long then remember it may be time to live "Life In Slow Motion". ---cdbaby.com
