Dominique Fillon...Revival!... After having recorded three albums, where the acoustic piano was the lead instrument, Dominique Fillon has wished, with this new formation as a quintet, to compose a music with no defined artistic line, without judgment, and without a precise concept. After many weeks of writing, he came with a dozen tracks where keyboards, synthetizer and piano would mix into different musical styles. Dominique Fillon realized then that the common points between all these tracks was the inspiration of all the music he listened to as a teenager: Franck Zappa, Ahmad Jamal and Brit Pop from the 60's, 70's and 80's with artists like Pink Floyd, Elton John, Police...
