

Antoine Silverman - Swing Shift (1998)

Written by bluesever

Friday, 19 August 2016 10:47 -

---

Antoine Silverman - Swing Shift (1998)

01 - How High the Moon 02 - Don't Get Around Much Anymore 03 - Ain't Misbehavin' 04 - Autumn Leaves 05 - Polka Dots and Moonbeams 06 - It's Only a Paper Moon 07 - Angel Eyes 08 - Pennies from Heaven 09 - Softly as in a Morning Sunrise 10 - Darn That Dream 11 - Almost Like Being in Love 12 - Makin' Whoopee Antoine Silverman - violin Andy Reiss - guitars Roger Spencer - bass Chris Brown - drums

This delightful retrospective to the popular days of Swing revitalizes such classics as "Ain't Misbehavin'", "Makin' Whoopee", and "How High the Moon". Young violinist Antoine Silverman showcases flare for Swing on an instrument too often locked into classical and bluegrass styles.

French-American violinist Antoine Silverman began playing classical violin at age three. As his talent developed, so did his interest in other styles of music. Jazz, with its delightful challenges and subtle intricacies soon became a lifelong passion. A resident of New York City, Antoine has played on Broadway and on television with world renown performers. He is also a highly sought-after studio musician. ---amazon.com download (mp3 @320 kbs):

yandex 4shared mega mediafire cloudmailru uplea ge.tt

Antoine Silverman - Swing Shift (1998)

Written by bluesever

Friday, 19 August 2016 10:47 -

---

back