Pat Appleton "sings like a goddess: purring, enticing, wonderful," says Germany's leading women's magazine Brigitte. Over the last few years, she has toured the entire world with De-Phazz and was labeled "one of the most important new voices of contemporary German Jazz" by German TV channel 3Sat. Now this amazing Berlin-based singer presents her stunning solo debut which abounds with refreshing pop jewels and soulful ballads. What's Next? has been produced in collaboration with some of Europe's most talented and respected producers. Stars like Gabin, Naoki Kenji, Flipside, Vienna D.C. and, obviously, De-Phazz have been delighted to dedicate their skills to this great but always modest diva. Executive Producer is Chris Zippel, a long-standing co-producer for the Pet Shop Boys, who has most recently contributed a track for Robbie Williams' album Rudebox. ---Editorial Reviews, amazon.com
