Swingrowers - Remote (2014)

01 Midnight 02 Baby Lone 03 That's Right! 04 Stay Swing 05 Frank 06 Django 07 Chiovi 08 Break Out 09 Enjoy The Moment 10 Fancy 11 Why? Loredana Grimaudo - vocals Roberto Costa - producer, performer Alessio Costagliola - guitar Davide Rizzuto - violin Ciro Pusateri - Alto Saxophone

SWINGROWERS (pronounced Swing Grow'ers) are an accomplished four-piece band from Palermo in Sicily off the southern coast of Italy.

Known for their string of superb singles, albums and EPs as well as their incredible live shows, the band have done official remixes for platinum selling artists like Caro Emerald (Grandmono) or Millie Smalls (Island Records) and tours with bands like Caravan Palace or Parov Stelar. They've also toured North America, Europe, Japan and India in their own right and have performed at literally hundreds of festivals around the world including the main stage of the Blue Note Festival in Japan.

Their sound is a mix of styles from jazz to hip-hop, electronica to gypsy swing but has been steadily evolving since their debut into a unique vintage-inspired pop.

The first album, PRONOUNCED SWING'GROWERS (2012), was largely a sample-based affair very much part of the emerging electro-swing genre and featuring the two founding members Loredana Grimaudo on vocals and Roberto Costa (A.K.A. PiSk) on production duties.

This was followed with the addition of jazz guitarist Alessio Costagliola for the single QUEEN OF SWING (2013) with guests London-based brass section and producers Gypsy Hill. 2013 also saw the start of the series of cover versions that became the DO NOT COVER EP (2014) featuring guests The Lost Fingers on PUMP UP THE JAM and the bands version of Paulo Conte's Italian classic VIA CON ME .

Follow-up album REMOTE (2014), saw the band expand to a five-piece with the addition of Davide Rizzuto on Violin and Ciro Pusateri on Alto Saxophone and singles THAT'S RIGHT! and MIDNIGHT. ---freshlysqueezedmusic.com download (mp3 @320 kbs):

yandex mediafire ulozto cloudmailru gett

back