Eros Ramazzotti is an Italian singer and songwriter born in 1963 in Cinecittà, a suburb of Rome. Eros's good looks and incredible musical talent have made him one of the best loved and successful pop singers in the world, having sold more than 60 million records worldwide.

Eros comes from a working class background - his father was a house painter - and retained this humble nature throughout his career. For example, after Eros won an award in the "Overall" category at the 1986 Sanremo Music Festival, a reporter asked him if he considered himself to be a genius or merely an artist. Eros replied: "I'm just a boy who has always wanted to sing. My culture is from the street, not from a school or a university."

And his singing dream has indeed come true. He has now sang with the very best in the industry, recording duets with such stars as Cher, Céline Dion, Tina Turner, and Andrea Bocelli. Eros' voice is that of a natural tenor, polished and somewhat aggressive, but very expressive and melodic. He has a slightly nasal sound which makes his timbre comparable to none: Eros' voice is, without a doubt, among the most recognizable in the Italy. ---lifeinitaly.com
