Diego Torres - Un Mundo Diferente (2001)

Color esperanza

Una gotita de tu amor

Quisiera

Por ti yo iré

Conmigo siempre

Sueños

Que no me pierda

Si tu te vas

Alegría

Perdidos en la noche

No me olvides

Soy de la gente

A través del tiempo

Personnel includes: Diego Torres (vocals); Cachorro Lopez (arranger, guitar, bass, programming); Jose Luis Pagan (acoustic guitar); Andres Canola (electric guitar); Dyan Abad (guitar); Rolfi Calahorrano (saxophone, Rhodes piano); Ed Calle (saxophone); Richard Nant (trumpet, flugelhorn); Tony Concepcion (trumpet); Dana Taboe (trombone); Sebastian Schon (piano, Rhodes piano, programming); Anye Bao, Lee Levin (drums); Joselin Vargas (cajon); Richard Bravo (shaker, percussion); Nicolas Arnicho (percussion); Celsa M. On UN MUNDO DIFERENTE, Diego Torres delivers an energetic blend of sharply melodic pop songcraft and traditional Latin dance rhythms that should appeal to a wide cross section of contemporary music fans. On the best tracks, the Argentine actor/singer/heartthrob wisely avoids the cheesy, overly synthesized production values that plague the work of many of his contemporaries, instead favoring a super smooth sound that's tempered with markedly organic instrumental flourishes. Though UN MUNDO DIFERENTE seems to borrow equally from '60s Brazilian music and '80s Los Angeles hit makers like Christopher Cross, the closest touchstone for comparison is perhaps the best early work of the Miami Sound Machine.
