

Anne McCue - Koala Motel (2006)

Written by bluelover

Sunday, 12 September 2010 13:34 - Last Updated Saturday, 30 April 2016 15:41

Anne McCue - Koala Motel (2006)

01 Driving Down Alvarado (4:50)
02 From Bakersfield To Saigon (4:06) 03 Bright Light Of Day (3:37) 04 Hellfire Raiser (6:46)
05 Sweet Burden Of Youth (5:49) 06 Coming To You (3:54) 07 Any Minute Now (4:45) 08
Jesus' Blood (3:11) 09 Shivers (6:58) 10 As The Crow Flies (6:22) 11 Lay Me Down (4:04)
12 Koala Motel (4:18)

If you're of a certain age and inclination, you'll welcome Anne McCue's Koala Motel as kin to Pretenders II, Shoot Out the Lights and Rumours. But while some artists boast their influences like a window display at a trendy vintage store, counting the gems on on the Australian singer/songwriter's second disc is like walking through an art gallery, with something to delight and intrigue at every turn. There's the fuzzed-up scrim of her blues guitar on "As The Crow Flies"; the harmonies (with John Doe), reminiscent of Richard and Linda Thompson, in "Driving Down Alvarado"; the plaintive country edge of "Shivers." On this last track... McCue sounds like her alto came out of God's workshop. She's confident, polished, smart, and Koala Motel is wholly original — and indelible. - Pamela Murray Winters, Harp Magazine download (mp3 @320 kbs):

salefiles yandex 4shared mega mediafire cloudmailru uplea

Anne McCue - Koala Motel (2006)

Written by bluelover

Sunday, 12 September 2010 13:34 - Last Updated Saturday, 30 April 2016 15:41

back