

Leviathan - Leviathan (1974/2012)

Written by bluesever

Tuesday, 24 November 2015 16:51 - Last Updated Monday, 18 June 2018 08:28

Leviathan - Leviathan (1974/2012)

1. Arabesque - 6:15 2. Angela - 6:40 3. Endless Dream - 9:58 4. Seagull - 5:00 5. Angel of Death - 4:07 6. Always Need You - 3:22 7. Quicksilver Clay - 7:28 8. Why I Must Be Like You - 3:00 9. I'll Get Lost Out There - 3:42
Wain Bradley - Bass, Guitars, Vocals Peter Richardson - Organ, Vocals Don Swearingen - Piano Grady Trimble - Guitars John Sadler - Mellotron Shof Beavers – Drums

US outfit LEVIATHAN was formed in 1972, originally from Little Rock, Arkansas but later having their base of operations out of Memphis, Tennessee according to the few sources available.

They were an active band in the southwest US live scene, and besides opening for acts such as Electric Light Orchestra they also headlined shows themselves, at the height of their career in front of an audience 8000 strong in Memphis, Tennessee.

The band issued one album before disbanding, a self-titled affair that eventually saw the light in 1974. The album had been a long time in the making though, as many of the band members were meticulous in their approach to the art of making music. Trained percussionist Beavers (who abhorred the description drummer) amongst the most detailed-oriented members of a band with perfectionism as a priority.

Leviathan did record a second album, "The Life Cycle", but by the time it was finished the interest of their particular brand of music had declined considerably, and no label showed a particular interest in releasing it. ---progarchives.com

Leviathan - Leviathan (1974/2012)

Written by bluesever

Tuesday, 24 November 2015 16:51 - Last Updated Monday, 18 June 2018 08:28

download (mp3 @320 kbs):

yandex mediafire cloudmailru

back