Blues Reference, a project under the direction of Jacques Perin, Jean Michael Proust & Jean Marc Fritz has reissued 12 titles from French's prestigious "Black & Blues" series of the seventies. We chose the John Little John mostly because he is one of the few unlucky not to benefit enough from the cd era. He's, indeed, very good and this collection show the reason why. Recorded during the Chicago Blues Festival european tour in 1978 John is backed by "giants" as Lafayette Leake on piano and Fred Below on drums as well Alabama Pettis jr on second guitar and Nick Holt on bass. Little John is more than a mere part in the Chicago blues scene of that period (seventies) but has a personal approach which moves from the sophisticated Californian styles of early fifties to more logical tribute to Elmore James. ---
