

Joe Turner Meets Jimmy Witherspoon - Patcha, Patcha All Night Long (1985)

Wpisany przez bluesever

Poniedziałek, 16 Lipiec 2012 14:13 - Zmieniony Niedziela, 07 Marzec 2021 17:39

Joe Turner Meets Jimmy Witherspoon - Patcha, Patcha All Night Long (1985)

*A1 Patcha, Patcha 7:30 A2 Blues Lament 12:07 B1 You Got Me Runnin' 3:33 B2
Kansas City On My Mind 7:56 B3 J.T.'s Blues 5:38 B4 I Want A Little Girl 5:46*
Bass – Rudy Brown Design – Norman Granz, Sheldon Marks Drums – Al Duncan
Guitar – Gary Bell Keyboards – Bobby Blevins Photography – Phil Stern Producer –
Norman Granz Saxophone – Lee Allen Saxophone [Alto] – Red Holloway Saxophone
[Baritone] – Jerry Jummonville Trumpet – Ike Williams

This CD reissue, which is subtitled "Joe Turner Meets Jimmy Witherspoon," does not quite deliver on its promise. Turner (who would pass away within a year) and Witherspoon only actually meet up on the first two numbers and, other than some interplay on "Patcha, Patcha," the matchup generates few sparks. However the individual features (two songs apiece) are excellent, particularly Witherspoon's "You Got Me Runnin'" and Turner's "The Chicken and the Hawk." In addition there are many fine solos from altoist Red Holloway, Lee Allen on tenor and guitarist Gary Bell. This is a worthwhile and obviously historic set, recommended as much to blues as jazz collectors. --- Scott Yanow, allmusic.com download (mp3 @320 kbs):

yandex mediafire ulozto solidfiles global-files

Joe Turner Meets Jimmy Witherspoon - Patcha, Patcha All Night Long (1985)

Wpisany przez bluesever

Poniedziałek, 16 Lipiec 2012 14:13 - Zmieniony Niedziela, 07 Marzec 2021 17:39

back