How many blues singers you know? I mean: “real” blues singers? And how many blue-eyed guys do fit into that category? Five? Or maybe ten?

Whoever you are naming, Lee McBee should be a member of that exclusive club. The man with the particularly soulful and smoky voice, long-time partner of Texas blues guitarist, Mike Morgan has done it again!

He's surprising the blues community with another GREAT record. The musicians were hand-picked in the Dallas area; the recordings were made at Billy Horton's famous 'Fort Horton Studio' near, Austin, Texas. Recorded the old way, live with all guys playing in one room, at the same time. Johnny Moeller is playing guitar with Kim Wilson in his current Fabulous Thunderbirds line-up.

Lee knows how to sing the blues. His repertoire includes rural styles as well as big city soul. He is ranking amongst CrossCut's most favorite white singers. His only album on our label is a moving and thrilling example of contemporary blue-eyed blues and soul. A well-balanced mixture of originals and covers, performed with energy and passion. Traditional style blues at its
