Frank Sinatra - Vocals Tommy Dorsey and His Orchestra

Tommy Dorsey went to hear Sinatra singing with the James band at the Sherman Hotel in Chicago and hired him away at $125 a week. With Dorsey's orchestra, he made more than 80 recordings between 1940 and 1942. Among them were "I'll Never Smile Again," "Street of Dreams," "There Are Such Things," "Stardust," "Let's Get Away From It All," and "This Love of Mine." Frank Sinatra achieved his first great success as a vocalist in the Dorsey band and claimed he learned breath control from watching Dorsey play trombone. It was in 1942, when he left Dorsey and struck out on his own, that he became the hero of the "bobbysoxers."
