

Stretch – Lifeblood (1977)

Wpisany przez bluesever

Sobota, 11 Luty 2017 15:37 - Zmieniony Piątek, 25 Styczeń 2019 20:39

Stretch – Lifeblood (1977)

01. End Up Crying 4:07 02. Knives In Their Backs 3:59 03. Rock 'n' Roll Hoochie-Coo 3:10
04. Right Or Wrong 4:08 05. Show Biz Blues 5:37 06. You Can't Beat Your Brain For Entertainment 3:13 07. Jonah And The Whale 4:50 08. Living On The Highway 3:12 09. *Take
You Down* 4:03 10. Let's Spend The Night Together 5:57 Bass – Steve Emery Drums, Percussion – Jeff Rich Lead Guitar, Vocals, Percussion – Kirby Lead Vocals, Guitar [2nd], Percussion – Elmer Gantry

Without question Stretch was one of rock music's hardest working and finest groups and they remain vastly under-rated in spite of an outstanding hit single 'Why Did You Do It?', originally released in 1975 and later revitalized in the award-winning movie Lock Stock and Two Smoking Barrels and by Beyonce on youtube. In an era when Bad Company and Rainbow were storming the charts and the stages, Stretch was right up there giving them a run for their money. For a period in the mid 70s it seemed that they would be amongst the biggest names of them all with their thrilling spill of hooks and hard rock. Yet despite instant chart success the group had disappeared by the end of the decade. It remains one of the greatest universal mysteries why Stretch was not massive because their high quality tasteful music should have ensured far greater commercial success. --- stretchwebsite.com download (mp3 @320 kbs):

yandex mega uloz.to cloudmailru ge.tt

Stretch – Lifeblood (1977)

Wpisany przez bluesever

Sobota, 11 Luty 2017 15:37 - Zmieniony Piątek, 25 Styczeń 2019 20:39

back